

New Town Planning Official Gives Advice

MR H. L. SEYMOUR ADDRESSES LUNCHEON GATHERING OF BOARD OF TRADE

Possibly the best attended meeting of the Board of Trade met for luncheon (which we understand is to be made a monthly feature henceforth) on Friday last, when the guest of honor was Mr. H. L. Seymour, the new director of town planning, working under the supervision of the department of municipal affairs for Alberta.

Mr. G. C. Siddall, the president of the board, and after all had done full justice to the splendid viands, Councilor Robinson, chairman of the public works committee, introduced the speaker of the day in a few well-chosen words.

Mr. Seymour, who spoke in a reminiscent and jovial spirit, said that after he had visited some forty towns of about the size of Wainwright, he felt that this place registered high in enthusiasm for the new town planning act of the province.

He considered it an honor to be so entertained by the Board, for they were actually the town builders both of the future as well as the present, and he felt sure that so large a gathering augured well for the success of the project.

He mentioned that the actual scheme for town planning arose through a visit paid to the Old Country by Premier Brownlee, who wished to emulate the splendid developed conditions found over there. That was the crux of the whole movement. The provincial government were wholeheartedly behind the move, to make Alberta a better place in which to work and in which to live.

No other province or state was working so hard for the future, and the betterment for the countryman as well as the town man, and he predicted that within possibly a decade Alberta would be almost as large in population as Ontario. Fifteen years ago Alberta was only being exploited so far as farming was concerned, but today the people were thinking in terms of life-long towns.

Mr. M. W. Miesner, the Edmonton piano tuner will be here about May 22nd, and orders should be left at the Star office for his services.

A truly up-to-date feature for our town will be the new "Neon" electric signs which are to be installed. The Wainwright Pharmacy will be having their's this week while one for the Star office will be placed as soon as the building is completed.

LOCAL ODDFELLOWS HOLD ANNIVERSARY

FOUNDING OF THIS ORDER IS PATRICKLY OBSERVED ON SUNDAY

In properly observing the 110th anniversary of the founding of the I.O. O.F. order, on Sunday last, a large proportion of the members of this organization marched in parade to St. Andrew's (Pres.) church on Sunday evening last, accompanied by a number of the sister Rebekahs of the order, as well as Grand Lodge officers and members.

The Rev. H. W. S. Brooker was in charge of the service and in addition to a scripture reading from I. Sam. xx. (which was fully descriptive of many beautiful teachings of the Order, preached from the third verse of the same passage.

His discourse was listened to with rapt attention, and in expounding the theme of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, exhorted his hearers to take as their motto for the coming year—and indeed for all time—"Let brotherly love continue" (and make it continue for all time).

During the service the choir of the church assisted in the singing of a number of well-known hymns, in all of which the congregation joined most heartily and with rapt attention. "In the garden" was sung by Misses L. Lilly and Mrs. W. Carwell. The latter lady also sang as a solo number "Abide with us" in a pleasing manner.

At the close of the church service the members again formed in parade and marched back to their lodgeroom where a few speeches on the age, magnitude and working of the Order were given, while Bro. Wiley and Sister Carwell acted as joint chairmen.

A number of the brothers from Irma attended this gathering, after having held their own church services at home in the afternoon at which some of the local brothers and sisters were present.

houses, etc., all over the province. Better economic development, said the speaker, must arise from making provision for recreational features and such like plans of reform, and within each breast must be engendered the hopes of present happiness and future prosperity; all of which is helped by correct town planning.

Today proper sanitation for instance, is known to be an absolute necessity in the health and life of the people, and proper planning would make these worth-while things easy of accomplishment for all in both town and country, and under the new scheme of the government encouragement was given to all to make the attempt to raise the standard of sanitation in their homes. All of the people of the province were surely working for the good of their families and to make the most of opportunity for the benefit of all.

HALF HOLIDAYS START NEXT WEEK

Weekly half-holidays in retail stores go into effect next Wednesday according to the announcement of the B.Y.L.A. on another page of this issue. Under this pronouncement it is required that certain retail stores and business close at NOON on each Wednesday from and including the Second Wednesday in May, until the Second Wednesday in the month of August, and all those affected should govern themselves accordingly.

In regard to such like matters town planning was of primary assistance, and Mr. Seymour pointed out scourge which the unsanitary school was in any place, and in most instances these troubles arose from lack of correct sanitation and conveniences. Town planning, he said, was really a system of beautification. It was worked out in a manner which gave the best and most lasting results at the lowest cost. And whether it might be water systems, sewerage schemes, unsightly buildings, residential areas, park properties, or anything of a nature which would improve health and living conditions, it would be found to be truly worth while, and prove a lasting asset to any community.

The new Act also deals with large and unsightly road signs which tend to mar the landscape, and otherwise beauty spot or scene, the design and location of roadside gasoline stations and other matters of general beautification of the countryside.

The speaker also mentioned the menace of the curbside gas pump, which today are becoming a nuisance and on account of their unneeded frequency and with regard to the enforcement of correct traffic regulations on our streets. The province is large enough, he said, that there is no need of congestion in any center, and the new Act would greatly assist in planning for larger and better things along all lines of beautification. Alberta is recognised as a wonderful province, and the new scheme would enhance this still more.

Towns as well as farms, are usually laid out in a somewhat haphazard manner, and Wainwright was no singular in that respect, although if taken up now, under the Act, Wainwright can control its future development in many ways. Sub-divisions can be restricted if thought advisable or necessary; parks can be outlined; playground areas set aside for the children; sizes and locations of stores can be governed; residences can be governed as to frontage lines; boulevard can be set out; zoning regulation formulated and in fact in a hundred and one ways the Town of Wainwright could in a few years be brought up to the highest standards of town planning at little expense, provided the people of the town wish it, and the schemes outlined passed upon favorably by the new provincial board which is set up to govern such matters.

Industrial sites, lighting schemes, sidewalks, public buildings, all can be made to fit in, by proper planning and zoning. And all of these vast improvements will surely leave their influence for good upon citizens and children alike.

At the close of his address which was listened to with close attention, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Seymour, after which he met some of the town officials informally and went further into some of the details of the new Town Planning Act.

BIG COMMERCIAL PICTURE AT THEATRE

TELEPHONE WIRES AND TRUE LOVE ARE TRULY TANGLED IN FEATURE

Not about horses and ranchers and bandits and such but a unique sort of Western tale about rival telephone companies is "Hello Cheyenne" showing here next Thursday Friday and Saturday.

They are building lines into Rawhide out of Cheyenne the one getting there first to receive the bulk of the business. For Cody, everything depends on the success of his company in the race. But Bardeen is too unscrupulous for him to cope with. Luck brings Tom Trask. Trask is an over-laid stage driver who gets fired when he wrecks the coach—though he did it while saving Cody's payroll. Diana Cody can not console her growing love for Tom, who becomes her father's foreman. And success seems assured her father's company now that Tom is running things. Then some wire is stolen, and while Tom and his men are hunting for it, Diana is kidnapped. Tom scours the country for her, while Rawhide is waiting to celebrate the end of the race. Reaching Diana, Tom starts to complete the lines at any cost. He decides to run the wires along the fence posts. Diana goes on ahead to arrange the connection. Bardeen and his men overpower her. But Tom routs them and dashes into the nearest store calls into the telephone "Hello, Cheyenne!" An answer returns. The race is won for Cody and Diana for Tom.

We are glad to note that Mrs. Dalton of Fabian is now much better, so that she was able to return home from the hospital last week.

There are one or two of our farm boys who will have their wheat practically all in the ground by the time this is read, and seedling is becoming pretty general now, although there are some moist spots.

Arrangements have been made whereby the Catholic Women's League will serve dinner and supper in the C.N. clubrooms during the school musical festival on May 23rd.

The big dance for the "Kiddies' Day" fund is tonight in the theatre. The fun is arranged by the local Elks and a good time is assured.

CREAMERY WILL BE RE-OPENING AGAIN SHORTLY

Mr. Fred Harrington, who was formerly manager of the Burns' Creamery here, was over from Vermilion last week, in company with Mr. H. Madden, of Edmonton, and these gentlemen are authority for the information that the local creamery plant is to be re-opened in a week or two. In fact just as soon as things can be put in order for the proper working of the plant. Farmers are asked to note this, and to make the most of their chances in this addition to the town's facilities. That little old cream cheque always comes in handy, eh?

Bill Bibby, Jr. ("Young Bill") is now driving his new Pontiac coupe, and claims "she's a dandy!"

It would be just as easy to sell buggy whips in Detroit, as for an out-of-town firm to sell lumber in Wainwright. If prospective builders will get our prices and compare them with "direct to consumer" catalogues. In addition to this we throw in better service and better lumber for good measure! ## COUNTRY EDITORS' DAY AT EXHIBITION

PUBLISHERS OF RURAL NEWSPAPERS IN ALBERTA TO BE GUESTS AT FAIR

Arrangements are being made for the holding of a social event during Exhibition week which it is believed cannot result in other than the strengthening of the ties of friendship and kindly relations between the country and town. It is proposed to hold a country editors' day at the Exhibition when the editors of the country newspapers in northern and central Alberta will become the guests of the association.

P. W. Abbott managing director says that the idea has been favorably received by the directors and has been mooted to some of the proprietors of the country journals, who have made no secret of their enthusiasm. In addition to visiting the exhibition the program of entertainment includes a dinner to the editors, when they will have the opportunity of meeting the directors some of the leading citizens and newspaper men. The interchange of opinions which will take place will, it is believed result in benefit to both city and country.

QUALITY OF SEED CLOSELY CHECKED

SYSTEMATIC INSPECTION BEING CARRIED OUT BY DOMINION SEED BRANCH

Representatives of the Dominion Seed branch are at present in the rural districts checking closely all seed being placed on the market by growers and seedsmen, according to a statement made by G. M. Stewart, chief inspector. A close tab is being kept on all field crop seeds as well as vegetable seeds. Flower seeds were so receiving attention to see that the containers were marked with the year they had been filled, as required by the Seeds Act.

Mr. Stewart explained that the representatives of the department were working throughout the whole province. One was in the Peace River another was in the south and a third was at Camrose. Three inspectors were also engaged in the same sort of work in British Columbia.

Warehouses and seed dispatching plants railway yards, freight sheds, elevators and other places where seed was in transit were being closely checked also the premises of the growers who had seed for sale.

Many samples of these seeds were being sent into the offices of the department Mr. Stewart said. The number of samples tested this season from all sources created a record nearly 15,000 samples having been handled. So far as wheat and oats were concerned Mr. Stewart expressed the opinion that farmers this year were taking much more care in cleaning their seed and treating it for smut control.

The Brunner service station has now installed a new high pressure Almie greasing outfit for your car. Drop in when the car sometimes.

Mrs. Trewhartha, who has been staying with her daughter Mrs. Stott left for her home in Calgary on Sunday, and Mrs. Stott leaves for there tonight. These ladies will travel to Detroit, accompanying the body of the late Mr. Trewhartha for interment in that city.

When in the market for Wainwright or any other oil stock see Bill Stupart, the local broker.

Owing to so much sickness among the members, the semi-annual bazaar of the English church has been postponed until Saturday May the 16th.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES FOR WAINWRIGHT

During the past week since our last issue a number of new and satisfied car owners have been added to the list, among these being: From the Chevrolet showrooms, Messrs Stuart, Flaxton, sedan; Bruce Nichols, coach. From the Ford Agency, Messrs W. Robinson, of Gill Edge, sedan; W. O'Connor, roadster; from the Buick showrooms, W. Seguin, sedan; E. Gehring, Pontiac coupe. From the Essex garage, Mr. H. Cryderman, sedan. All indicative of the progressive spirit of the times in Wainwright.

SEEDING NOW GOING STRONG

During the past week several of our farmers have been out on the land, and not a few of them have had the drills busy putting in the seed for their 1929 crop. There are yet some wet spots in places, but with the winds of the last few days these will soon be dried out. There will be quite an increase in acreage this season.

LOCAL MAN LOSES EYE AT HIS WORK

GUY TORY SUFFERS INJURY FROM PIECE OF STEEL IN RIGHT EYE

An unfortunate accident occurred last week when Mr. Guy Tory, who was repairing a tractor on the farm of Mr. E. Beasley, had the misfortune to suffer an injury to his right eye whereby he has now lost that optic.

It appears that he was cutting off a steel nut from a bolt when it flew off and hit the eye. He was given immediate medical attention and it was found that the eye contained a piece of steel from the fitting. Later taken to a specialist in the city, was fully decided that the only way to preserve the sight of the left eye was to at once remove the right one and this was done on Thursday last.

We are glad to note that at last reports the left eyelid has been saved, and the patient is resting much more easily.

We are glad to know that Mrs. W. Yeager, who has been at the coast for some weeks has now recovered her health and returned home.

Now is the time of year to start re-modelling your home. It is not hard to build an extra room, or sun-room, or a verandah; to lay maple floors; to put in a stylish window, or to paint the place. More alterations and re-modelling is being done now than ever before, and the plans at the Atlas yard will help you in your choice. Joe Welch will quickly figure the cost; phone 57.

Owing to the sickness of her father Mrs. Alice Adams was called to her former home last week.

WEDDING BELLS

THURSTON-BRYANS

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Thomas' church, Chilliwack B.C. on Tuesday, April 23rd, when Miss Leah M. Bryans, daughter of Mrs. Robert Bryans, of Chilliwack and the late Robert Bryans of Edmonton, became the bride of Mr. Edward Frederick Thurston, of Wainwright.

The ceremony was performed by The Rev. Canon M. W. Holdom, brother-in-law of the bride.

The church, which was decorated for the occasion through the kindness of the members of St. Thomas' altar guild was resplendent with spring flowers and fruit blossoms.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette, with trimmings of real Irish lace and pearls, and her cap-shaped veil of real lace and net was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, lily of the valley and sweet peas.

Mrs. M. H. Holdom, sister of the bride, who was matron of honor, was the only attendant.

The service was fully choral and during the signing of the register the choir sang "The Voice that breathed O'er Eden."

After the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Thurston made a short trip to Vancouver, the bride travelling in a grey ensemble.

The happy couple are now in residence in their new home on Third Avenue east.

OILFIELD ACTIVITIES CONTINUE VERY BRISK

Despite the counter attractions of any other field in Alberta, work and activity in the Wainwright field continues to increase, and each day sees additions to the ranks of oilmen in this vicinity.

The new still has been placed in the reborts at the Associated Refineries, and it is a pleasing sight to witness the steady stream of distillate pouring forth continuously at this plant. Oil is being obtained from the Sako-Wainwright, B.P. No. 3 and Ed. Wain. wells, and so soon as results justify the action it is the intention to erect still another unit there.

At the Wainwright No. 1 well the job of cementing at a depth of 2215 is being undertaken and in a couple of weeks it is hoped to have this well back of crude production.

At their No. 4 hole, the machinery is now practically all placed, and this well is to be started in a day or so. The gas pressure in this well is still holding up, with relief allowed periodically by burning and blowing off.

At the Hargal Oils holdings north of town, work continues apace, and it should not be long before these people have a well in production to compare with the other producers on the same north structure.

Still More Companies

With a strong backing from eastern capital, the Toronto-Wainwright Oils Ltd., a newly-formed company is planning to drill a couple of wells in this field this season. Opening operations are to start in a couple of weeks according to announcement from the heads of the company.

This company have control of some three thousand acres in the Wainwright district, and are arranging to take in still more acreage.

With a total of something like twelve and a-half thousand acres of freehold oil and gas rights in the Wainwright area, the Marvel Oils Ltd. are at this time preparing to have some of the leases drilled upon, this privilege being sought by quite a number of drilling companies anxious to get into this proved crude oil field.

FAIR CROWD ATTEND

C.N. CARD PARTY

In their clubrooms last week the C.N. Social club staged a card party when a nice crowd gathered for the affair. Before the supper which was served by the ladies, the prize winners were announced as follows: Ladies: Mrs. C. Horne, 1; Mrs. H. Arkwright, 2; Miss M. Beckett, 3. Gentlemen: Mr. Thornhill, 1; W. Prosser, 2; O. Bowen, 3.

PRAIRIE FIRES CAUSES BIG LOSS

PRAIRIE FIRES ACT TO BE STRICTLY ENFORCED FOR COMING SEASON

Several serious prairie fires in the southern part of the province have resulted in considerable destruction of farm property as well as grass on the ranges it is pointed out by Benj. Lawton, Provincial Game and Fire Commissioner, that those who find it necessary to set fires should take every precaution to prevent it from escaping, and anyone driving through the country should refrain from throwing lighted matches and live cigar or cigarette stubs away before they are extinguished.

The burning of stubble on grain fields in the past has resulted in considerable damage from fires which have been allowed to escape. It is considered that the long stubble and straw left on grain fields where corn hine harvesters have been used may prove to be even more serious menace, where this is burned preparatory to plowing. It would be well for all who find it necessary to burn stubble of this kind to take special precautions even in addition to those provided for by The Prairie Fires Act.

Where burning is to be done at any season of the year for the purpose of destroying stubble, straw or brush, or where it is considered necessary to utilize fire for the clearing of land a fire guard is required, and the fire in every instance must be watched by three adult persons, equipped with suitable appliances for the extinguishing of fire, and the fire must be watched and guarded until it has been extinguished. A fire guard must be provided before kindling any such fire and must be ten feet wide if burning is to be done before May 7th and twenty feet wide if it is to be done after that date.

The Crime Code

'What do you now propose to do my boy

'I really don't know dad
'Well your first effort to discover the truth is to approach this strange woman the Little Countess he said It was she who injected into your body some drug which caused you that long period of loss of memory Still pretend that you do not recognize her and no doubt you will discover some clue to the amazing situation in which you find yourself today. At the bottom of it all you will find that the friends of the man who accidentally shot himself in Bloomsbury instead of murdering you and who was afterwards identified by his fingerprints as a notorious criminal have some great interest in bounding you to your peril

'But why? I asked puzzled as ever I did nothing I raised no hand except in self defense
'You saw him—you saw the others associated in that house on that foggy night. For that reason they fear you; hence their hands are raised against you. No my dear boy you must exercise the greatest discretion and precaution or you may still fall their victim

I recollected that strange letter penned by my anxious wife the mysterious Ilona She held the same opinion as did my dear old governor that I was in some deadly and mysterious peril

Quite late into afternoon we both sat in the long cane lounge chairs drowsily thinking
'What you have told me today explains reflectively at last. Often I have watched you and wondered in anxiety at your strangeness of manner and your apparent obliviousness of the past. Sometimes I grow impatient because I could not follow the trend of your thoughts. You seemed ridiculously regardless of the past and more often than not you made statements which on the face of them were absurd. Look here my boy' he said laying his hand upon my shoulder and with paternal affection. 'I can fear now to you that I often wonder if you had really taken leave of your senses. Now I know too well that you have not been yourself Hence I apologize to you for my shortness of temper

'There's no need for apology dad I declared I've never been in a fit state of mind to appreciate even your love for me or your suspicious of my demented state—for after all I must have been half mad all these many months.

'My poor boy I really think you must have been he said gripping my shoulder with his tender hand. He and I had always been the firmest friends ever since the death of my dear sainted mother whose pet I had always been since my Eton days.

I however told him nothing of that dark shadow on me—the discovery that I was married to a woman whom I did not know

We discussed the curious warning I had had concerning the evil intended by a blind man and the slightness in dividual who had called on me during my absence

'You should not meet him but keep alert and watchful' he advised When he comes follow him and see where he lives and with whom he associates the governor suggested

'That was my idea for I resolved to leave no stone unturned to solve the inexplicable mystery.

All was bewildering The more we discussed it the deeper seemed the plot against me. But with what motive? What had I done, save to stumble on the foggy night into meeting of crooks who were no doubt in the act of dividing their spoils prior to distributing them to the fences? Of course they took me to be a squealer or a police informer For that reason Lisely whom I had believed to be my friend had made that diabolical suggestion of destroying my sight. Yet in my 'cowardly position she had surely administered to me strange insidious injection and allowed my sight to remain normal

Why?
The effect of that injection had been to make me unconscious of what I did of what I said or even of my life and surroundings for two whole years Had other persons been cast upon a par with others. Had others fallen into the hands of that desperate gang and had been subjected to the fatal hypodermic needle as I had been?

Late that afternoon I wandered through the gardens of my old house accompanied by the governor and I wondered whether my own served the same? I had read in the newspapers of many cases of complete loss of memory which had greatly puzzled medical men sometimes restored by a sudden shock to took great interest in his exquisite cherries grown under glass Politics and committees occupied his whole life. But his recreation was a delight in horticulture and especially in the rearing of flowers

Every day in the year old Blake our head gardener sent him a basket of flowers for his room whole years and more often than not he appeared in the House wearing a rare orchid grown at Hipwell

In the fading afterglow we dined to gether and in my honor he opened a bottle of one of his choicest vintages

Then when he had wished me every luck and given me many words of advice I highly valued I took my leave and just before eleven o'clock alighted again at King's Cross and drove back to Saville Street

CHAPTER VII

Missing!

Through two years my enemies had successfully fooled me I had no doubt been as clay in their hands even to the extent that some adventures had actually married me

'Was the marriage legal? How could I escape from the hateful bondage?
Had I not been warned by the mysterious Ilona? My mysterious truly for not even her address was known to me; hence I could not communicate with her

'The mystery of it all was driving me out of my mind That accursed drug that Lisely injected into my veins had changed me entirely, sweeping from me all recollection of the past but allowing me all the honor of the past

Ilona! Who was she? Where was she? I was frantic to see her, and obtain from her further facts concerning the serious plot against me But how?

Next day I took Joan out to lunch at Ciro's and afterwards we went to a matinee Tea at the Carlton following Therefore it was not before half-past six that I arrived back at Saville Street

The blind man called again this afternoon sir my man Bruce informed as I passed into the sitting room

The blind man I echoed What did you tell him?

'That you were still away sir But he seemed to know that you had returned

'He knows eh?
You showed him out of course?

'No sir I sent him down in the elevator and allowed him to tap himself out I told him frankly that if he could find his way up here he could just as easily find his way out again

Excellent Bruce I said approvingly But when he calls next time say I'm out and let me know instantly I'll follow him and see if he's blind or not

Oh I'm sure he's blind as a bat' my man declared

He may be only pretending I suggested But you describe him to me as minutely as you can

Well sir he's a youngish man dressed always in a shabby grey suit a soft collar and an old frayed black tie He has a rather sharp pointed nose and thickish lips

The description was rather vague but was it possible that the man who had posed to me as a romantic lover was the blind man against whom my unknown wife had so seriously warned me?

The thought gripped me for I saw myself surrounded by secret enemies who—realizing perhaps that as I had returned to my senses I was in peril to them—were determined to close my lips

I concealed my agitation from Bruce and went to my room to dress for the evening. I had promised to go out with Teddy Day, an old college chum who now held a dry as dust post in the Treasury—an inspector or something. He wore horn-rimmed spectacles and had a room of his own—a sign of a do-nothing job. Our great Government officials are full of civil servants who are alas! too often un-civil if you ask about their particular job. They are all the deep growths of officialdom which even inter-departmental committee cannot uproot.

Teddy Day was a cheery round-faced man about town essentially a lad and a confirmed bachelor.
With his hostesses he was a favorite for he was an excellent dancer and always fell into a vacancy as some-men appear born to do. We dined at the Piccadilly and after coffee at the Travelers' went on to a dance-club where we glided over the floor with partners hardly known to us

Not until half past one in the morning did I get back home and then I was so tired that I undressed hastily and soon fell asleep

Suddenly I heard my telephone bell ring and I sprang up to find it was already morning

'Hulloa? I asked in response to the call

'Is that you Lionel? asked a voice which I instantly recognized as that of Joan's father 'Is Joan with you?

'Joan! No. I haven't seen her since last evening I replied

'But she went to meet you at eight o'clock for dinner' said the deep voice of King's Counsel

'She never met me. I had no appointment with her

'But you sent a messenger with an appointment. I was here when it came

'I sent no messenger Mr Gell I declared I went out with a college friend and got back about half past one

'Why? Do you mean to say that you've never seen Joan?' he asked

'I swear that I have not seen her or sent her any message since I left her at six o'clock last night' was my astonished reply

'Then what the devil can have happened to her? asked her father

'I dressed hastily and took a taxi to Queen's Gate to find both Mrs Gell and her husband in a state of frantic anxiety

The statement of Hughes the lady's maid was to the effect that at about half past seven on the previous evening a telegraphic boy arrived with a note for Miss Joan

On receiving it she dressed hurriedly remarking to the maid that she had to meet me and later went off in a taxi saying

'Tell mother I'm out with Lionel

From that moment she had not been seen. Her father came in from a dinner of the Fishmongers' Company in the City at a quarter to two in the morning. But she had not returned

Thinking she was at a night club with me he went to bed leaving the door on the latch. But finding at early morning she had not returned he had made the inquiry over the phone and surely not without reason. It was perplexing mystifying. What could it mean?

The knowledge that some desperate plot had been formed against me by certain unknown enemies made it quite apparent that the conspiracy extended to my well-beloved. I said but little to Mr Gell but I became all the more convinced that she had fallen innocently into hostile hands as the message to her of course was a false one

The express messenger had delivered to Joan a written note She knew my handwriting Who therefore had forged my message?

The unknown Ilona had warned me not without reason. What could she possibly know?

'What was it all this talk about and if we hear nothing we'll go down and see Cunningham Lee the assistant commissioner at Scotland yard said Mr Gell whose work at the Old Bailey brought him into intimate touch with the head of the police

Three anxious hours passed but the telephone did not ring nor was there any explanatory message from the girl I so dearly loved. She was lost to me as to her friends. 'There had been some devil's work somewhere!' When I recalled my own experience in the hands of that desperate gang, I trembled for her. And yet her only fense apparently had been her great

KEEP THINGS WHERE THEY BELONG

Having been asked frequently as to the removal of wax from the ears, we are prompted to write that there is considerable truth in the old saying—"Never put anything into your ear smaller than your elbow". It is a mistake which many mothers make, that of trying to remove wax from deep in the ear. If wax does collect there, and it not frequently does to the extent of interfering with hearing, it should be removed by a doctor. Improper means of removal may do considerable permanent harm.

It is into the mouth, however rather than into the ear, that so many things go which certainly do not belong there. Food, drink and toothbrush are the only objects which should go into the mouth, although fingers, car-tickets and money are often placed there. The simple reason why the latter should not happen is that it is through the mouth most diseases germs enter the body. Anything which may be soiled with human secretions should be kept out of the mouth, because such secretions may carry disease germs. The car-ticket given out by the conductor, frequently with fingers moistened with saliva and then handled by our hands or gloves which have touched many things that might be soiled by saliva or other secretions should not go into the mouth.

In most cases, there is no actual danger because disease germs in general die quickly outside of the human body by drying. However, to avoid the very real danger that does lie in this habit it is necessary to develop the opposite habit of never placing in the mouth things which are out of place there.

It is through the consistent practice of such habits that each one of us can do much to ensure protection from disease. It may seem to be a small thing, but it is one of the small things which have an effect beyond what one who did not see their importance would expect.

Keep things where they belong, and so, keep disease germs out of the mouth.

Questions concerning Health addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered by letter. Questions as to diagnosis and treatment will not be answered.

HERE MUST BE SOMETHING TO IT

When a book has a circulation of more than 3,000,000 copies and has been read by more than 5,000,000 persons, there must be something in it. That is the record made by the Handbook for Boys of the Boy Scouts of America, the most widely read book for boys in the world and reputed to have an annual circulation in excess of every American book excepting the world circulation of the Bible.

The esteem with which the Boy Scout Movement is held in this country and abroad is in a great measure due to what boys practice from the lessons learned in the Handbook for Boys. In it are recorded the ideals and rules of the Scout Movement. To a boy reader it is a book of romanticism, inspiration and information. The book was produced after long study to determine what would most help boys to help themselves. Leading educators, over a period of many years considered the problem and co-operated in the compilation of a book which would at once interest and instruct boys and at the same time direct their activities along lines in keeping with the Boy Scout program of character building and citizenship training.

From Japan, from Alaska, from the Philippines, orders have come for the Handbook for Boys. Down on the continent of Antartica, where Commander Byrd's expedition is writing history the knowledge contained in the Handbook for Boys is standing Paul Siple the Boy Scout member of the Byrd crew, in good stead. It was the lessons he learned from scouting as revealed in the Handbook for Boys that gave this husky American lad the background which enabled Commander Byrd to select him as one of the members of his crew. He is an outstanding member, Commander Byrd has reported by radio.

THE BERTHA ARMY WORM

A worm native to the western provinces is commencing to cause some anxiety to crop growers particularly in Saskatchewan and Alberta. It is known as the bertha army worm that is credited with the destruction of more than 1,500 acres of sweet clover seed crop last year. The insect resembles the ordinary garden cutworms differing particularly in that it is a bright colour, a pale green when young, becoming more conspicuous with age and carrying three narrow light stripes along the back. The insect like the true armyworm travels as it feeds but takes time to climb the plants consuming the forming seeds, heads of flowers and green foliage. Attention is drawn to the seriousness of this pest in Pamphlet 103 of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa issued by the Entomological Branch. The pamphlet shows a method of controlling the pest which consists of a rider holding a springy pole across a horse's back with a bag of poison dust suspended from each end. As the rider crosses and recrosses the field the travelling of the horse jolts the bag allowing the dust to fall and spread over the crop. This army worm is troublesome in the garden attacking such plants as cabbages, corn, peas and beans. This insect though inconspicuous for many years caused destruction last season on all of the Prairie Provinces.

MANITOBA MINER

TO FEATURE OIL

George Wilson-Smith of Winnipeg editor and publisher of the Manitoba Miner was a visitor to personally investigate the oil situation in Alberta fields.

Mr Wilson-Smith was enthusiastic about the prospects for the future of the oil industry in Alberta, and declared that while his publication, the Manitoba Miner had been largely devoted to mines of Canada in the past it was his intention to devote a substantial portion of each edition to Alberta oil development.

The Manitoba Miner has a wide circulation in Canada, and several thousand copies enter the United States giving it a wide field for the distribution of Canadian oil and mining information.

CANADA WORLD LEADER IN SMELT FISHERY

OTTAWA—Canada's smelt fishery prosecuted in Atlantic Coast waters only, is the biggest in the world, yielding annually about 75 per cent of the total world production. In 1928, unsurveyed statistics of the Fisheries Branch show 8,798,700 pounds of smelt were landed by the fishermen of the Maritime Provinces and Quebec, or 2,546,500 pounds more than in 1927. New Brunswick led in catch.

Smelt are marketed fresh or frozen and very large quantities are exported to the United States. Out of the 1927 catch of 7,251,900 pounds, 6,155,800 pounds were sold on the American market.

NEW POSTOFFICES BEING OPENED

Two new post offices have recently been established in Alberta, one at Lac Magdore in the Peace River district, the other at Morecambe in the district of Battle River. The offices at Battle View and Cheecham in the Athabasca district have been closed and the name of the Moosewa post office in the Athabasca district has been changed to Lindbergh.

OIL LEASES TO BE PUT UP FOR SALE DOMINION AUCTION

Oil leases at Wainwright will be put up for public auction at the local office of the Dominion lands department on May 7 or 8 according to Alex Norquay, commissioner at Edmonton. The lands are those on which leases are expiring and comprise a number of different parcels. According to Mr Norquay the present holder of a lease may pay the rental plus interest and be re-instated on the land or he may put in the rental and interest as a reserve bid.

As a result of the posting of these lands, there is much interest being taken Mr Norquay stated and keen bidding for the leases is expected to result.

REMOVE THAT NASTY GARBAGE PILE NOW

Each succeeding spring finds the yards littered with papers and rubbish and the back yards with piles of garbage that has accumulated during the winter months. Citizens are urged not only by the Council but by the medical health officer and authorities to have the garbage and rubbish removed at the earliest possible date. Garbage piles are a source of sickness and danger especially during the warm spring days when the flies come out and spread disease germs from those garbage piles that are a prolific breeding ground for germs.

Rake Up, Clean Up, Paint Up, Keep it Up.
Don't wait until you get notice from the health inspector. Do it now!

ASK HIGHER FEES FROM RADIO OWNER

VICTORIA—That Canada should establish a permanent commission to direct radio and create a chain of super-powered broadcasting stations operated under a system which would encourage private enterprise and initiative, accord financial support to lower-powered privately operated stations which are efficiently managed and provide programmes of high standard, establish a definite policy of educational work, and finance the development of an efficient system of broadcasting by means of increased fees collected rigidly from all radio owners, were recommendations supported by four delegations which waited upon the royal commission on broadcasting at its public sessions at the parliament buildings.

THOUGHTS

By Clara McCreery

Thoughts are funny little things.
That walk across your face—
The bad ones come with dragging steps Which leave an ugly trace;
But good thoughts have such happy feet That smiles grow as they pass,
And faces where they come to play.
Look lovely in the glass.

VALUE OF

TOURIST TRADE

Ontario and Quebec newspapers report that the flow of auto tourist traffic from the United States is as early under way. Another record is expected this year in the number of holiday ing motorists to visit the Dominion.
The steady improvement of Canadian highways, more satisfactory auto camps, and the growing acquaintance with outstanding scenic attractions are factors in stimulating interest in Canadian motor tours, says The Herald.The prairie provinces will not be serious competitors of the eastern provinces in attracting auto tourists until western roads are brought up to date but there is every indication that the number of auto tourists to visit Alberta this year will be the largest in history. The magnificence of Rocky Mountain scenery, the excellence of mountain roads and hotels and the charm of Turner Valley are strong magnets in drawing visitors to this province.More and more the commercial importance of the tourist traffic is being realized. Dealing with this aspect Natural Resources of Canada, a publication issued by the Department of the Interior says:"Tourist travel is fast becoming one of the important industries of the Dominion. The growth of the traffic is most strikingly indicated by the increase in tourist automobile entries. In 1928 a total of 3,645,456 tourist cars entered Canada as compared with 3,153,800 in 1927, an increase of upwards of 500,000 cars. The expansion of tourist travel to Canada via railway and steamship lines has been remarkable in recent years, and while it is officially estimated that the value from all classes of the traffic reached $242,754,000 in 1927, reports from reliable sources throughout the country indicate that this expenditure was far surpassed in 1928. Briefly tourist travel brings to Canada an income comparable with the value of either the country's pulp and paper or mineral production."

DRIVERS'

TESTS

In the amendments of the Motor Vehicles Act to provide for the licensing of drivers, it is stated that the Minister may refuse a license if he is not satisfied of the applicant's competency. It is assumed, therefore, that clothed with that power, the department will set up proper machinery for examination purposes prior to the new regulations becoming effective next July 1, says Good Roads Magazine.There is no doubt that there has been a lack of education on the part of many drivers, and this has been the cause of a large percentage of accidents in this province.In some places, operating under a license system, a person who has been operating a car for five years and has not been involved in an accident is granted a license without examination.
It is likely that in this province there will be some general policy to cover persons whose ability to operate a car properly has never been open to doubt.Any examinations should be on the following points, in the opinion of experts:
(a) The rules of the road, the mechanism of the machine, how to create, transmit and control the power, the use of lights and brakes, the ability of the operator in congested traffic and at dangerous points on the road.(b) The occasions when the operator should show common sense and courtesy when driving.(c) His eyesight, his hearing his ability to use hands and feet his mentality and his state of nervousness.A candidate unsuccessful on the first point should be told to go to an instructor and be educated on parts of the examination in which he was

KNOWLEDGE IS

NOT DANGEROUS

The chief profit a woman wins from studying the advertisement does not consist in the immediate savings she is able to make on her purchases at the stores—although these are worth while.She acquires, week by week, a complete KNOWLEDGE OF VALUES.
And this is vastly more worth while.
To assume that ad-reading cultivates in a woman a mania for buying leading her to purchase things not at all needed simply because the prices are attractive, is as absurd as the old idea that knowledge was dangerous—that education "spoiled a woman for home duties."Buying for the home is a business matter, strictly. If a woman has business knowledge she utilizes it, with profit, in her buying. She is less likely to be influenced to buy what is not needed for she makes of her buying a continuing test of her capacity to manage the home.She succeeds or fails according to the manner in which she meets the test. She would fail utterly if she ignored the store advertisements.For these afford her hints and suggestions and information which she could not obtain otherwise. Think this over Mr.
Merchant!

GOOD FOR

WAINWRIGHT TOO!

If every householder would plant one or more trees, it can be readily seen that a great difference would be made in the appearance of the dominion. Tree-planting time is almost here and if anything is to be done this year preparations should be made without delay. The man who plants a tree does something for the district in which he lives, for the present generation and the generations to come.
Trees can be secured with little or no trouble and when all is considered the price is insignificant. Why not plant one or more this year? Plant shrubs, too, for they add much to the beauty of home or town—Ed.

EASY WAY

NOT RIGHT WAY

The role of a newspaper is peculiar to serve the public faithfully it mustrecord, at times, things that are not pleasant, things that might be described as a "knock" rather than a "boost." If it printed nothing but news that was handed out to it by the person or organization concerned, it would never publish anything to which any one could object. How beautiful that would be for the newspaper! But how unfair to all its readers. When a person prints something that is likely to arouse resentment in certain quarters, it is quite well aware that it will hear from the persons affected.
It would be much easier to say "Oh, just kill that story; it will only cause a fuss" But the easy way is not always the right way.—Journal

B.C. PROVES MECCA FOR

GAME HUNTERS

A great variety of game—animals, birds, fishes—is found in British Columbia. To the hunter with rifle or smoothbore, or angler or trapper, there is a wide choice, said C. K. Howard, Manager of the Tourist and Convent ion Bureau, Canadian National Railways. Big game include moose, bear, caribou, elk, mountain sheep, goats, and deer. Yearly parties of big game hunters visit the province, notably the Crested district and Golden returning laden with trophies, and many articles have been written in the world's magazines to lead hunting successes. In the coast districts deer, mountain sheep, goat, bear and elk are found; in the southern interior caribou mountain sheep and goat, mule-deer, white-tailed deer and bear, in central interior, caribou, moose, mountain sheep and goat; in Peace River vicinity, moose, caribou, mountain sheep and bear. Grizzly bear are found in most of the mountain regions and occasionally in the main mainland coast.
Among wild animals not protected are the grizzly bear, the timber wolf, coyote, cougar and wildcat.

POLO PROVIDES

SCREEN THRILLS

Any one who has the impression that polo is a nice, ladylike game invented by rich men's sons to while away a lazy afternoon is urged to see the "Smart Set" which shows Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Theatre to undress himself or herself as played by William Haines, the game is sort of a cross between a free-for-all horse and man fight and a cross-country fox hunt. Haines has accomplished athletic stunts before but never anything like this. From the time the whistle blows for the start of the game until he and his spotted pony career wildly down the field to victory, the game is all game.
In between times in the picture when the principals are not playing polo they never themselves as skilled and clever comedians. Yet "The Smart Set" is comedy but not of the slap stick variety; it fairly vibrates with joy of living, youth, and enthusiasm.

300 WHALES TAKEN BY

CANADIAN VESSELS

CTTAWA—It may be news to a good many people but whaling adds a tiny little sum, say, a year to the British Columbia trade totals. Last year 305 whales were taken by the fleet of six steamers operating from the two whaling stations on the British Columbia coast and were used in the production of fish meal, fertilizer and oil. Figures covering the value of the 1928 production have not yet been finally revised by the Fisheries Branch of the Department of Marine and Fisheries but in 1927, when the number of whales killed was 47 less than in 1928, the value of the meat, fertilizer and oil combined, obtained was $241,488.Of the 305 whales taken last year the largest number 140, were of the finback variety. Eighty-three sperm whales, 13 of the sei variety, and one humpback.Mr. and Mrs. McLevy camp are here

Was Honored for Service to Royalty

Walter Reginald Baker, C.V.O., former secretary of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the last surviving member of the original traffic organization of the line died on April 1, at his home in Montreal. Mr. Baker entered the service of the C.P.R. two days after the organization of the company in 1881 and retired at his own request on January 1, 1917. He was in his 77th year.During his thirty-five years' service with the C.P.R., Mr. Baker was assistant to the general superintendent, assistant to the president, assistant to the vice-president, and secretary. Previous to his association with the railway, he was private secretary and comptroller to Lord Dufferin, Governor-General, 1874-78.Born in York, England, on May 25, 1852, Mr. Baker came to this country alone at the age of 18 years. The boy began to establish a career for himself early, and after passing through several stages of progress towards success, found himself, at the age of 22, private secretary of His Majesty's representative in the Dominion.
Later he became attached to the Treasury Department, and was assistant secretary of the Treasury Board at Ottawa just before the C.P.R. was organized.In the historical organization of the railroad, Mr. Baker was one of the principal actors. Before he died, the former secretary put down on paper, as the last surviving member of the original group, just what were the circumstances surrounding the beginnings of the great company's organization. The company was formed on February 15, 1881, and the board of directors was held two days later. Charles Drinkwater was named secretary of the company, the first official to be appointed, according to the records of the historical event as related by Mr. Baker.Mr. Baker's Story Duncan McIntyre, later first vice-president of the C.P.R., who was a member of the "Syndicate" which had planned the organization of the C.P.R. He had made a promise to Mr. Baker some time before that, if the "Canadian Pacific

Late W. R. Baker, C.V.O.

the railway venture" came to anything, he would "remember him."
In his account of the matter, Mr. Baker recounts that "the matter had passed out of my mind" when on the night of February 15, 1881, he received a message from Mr. McIntyre. "I was busy late at night, in my office in the Eastern Block at Ottawa, preparing the estimates for Parliament, when a boy walked in with a telegram, Mr. Baker related.Following the instructions contained in the message, Mr. Baker went to the "Bank cottage"— the little house attached to the Bank in Montreal for the use of members visiting Ottawa—and there met the little group of great builders of the great road.There seated at a table were Donald Smith, later Lord Strathcona; George Stephen, later Lord Mount Stephen; R. B. Angus and Duncan McIntyre. The upshot of the meeting was the formation of the company, and the appointment of figures was that he went to Winnipeg with A. B. Stickney, general superintendent of the C.P.R. western division, as accountant on construction, and auditor of operation. "The salary was 50 per cent better than I was getting in the civil service," Mr. Baker explainsin his autobiographical account.
"So, I said to myself, 'I will go where-ever you want me to go.'"On the way to Winnipeg there were short stops at Chicago and St. Paul, where Mr. Baker had an opportunity of looking into the American system of railway accounting, and several other positions.
He was also connected with the Manitoba and North West Railway. In 1891 he left Winnipeg for Montreal. On that occasion he was presented with a silver salver commemorating his business connection with the western city.

Various Appointments

In Winnipeg, Mr. Baker held several positions successively in the C.P.R. He was purchasing agent, assistant to general manager, local treasurer, assistant to general superintendent, executive agent and filled several other positions.
He was also connected with the
Manitoba and North West Railway. In 1891 he left Winnipeg for Montreal. On that occasion he
was presented with a silver salver
commemorating his business connection with the western city.During his connection with the railway, Mr. Baker came into contact with several royal personages.
He was in charge of the royal train over the C.P.R. lines during the several visits of the Prince and Princess of Wales, now the reigning monarchs of Britain, Duke of Connaught, and Prince Fushimi. In return for his services to these royal personages he was presented with several testimonials and received several titles. Among his honours were: Commander of the Royal Victorian Order, Commander of the Order of the Sacred Sovereign of Japan, Knight of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, and Freeman of the City of York.He held his connection with the British monarchy with their

Mary at Buckingham Palace in

SUCCESSFUL GUEST ROOM ANTICIPATES GUESTS' NEEDS

Have you ever visited in a country house where the guest room was beautifully furnished, but absolutely devoid of all those small conveniences so necessary to daily life—and then had your trunk delayed by one of those fateful mishaps forever occurring in railway baggage rooms? And, of course, that would be just the time when you brought nothing else but a small overnight bag, so you have to rush back and forth to your hostess' room, borrowing this and that!

If you have ever been driven to such depths of exasperation, then you will know how to equip the guest rooms in your own house so that they are proof against all such accidents. You will know that in addition to the usual three-piece set of mirror, brush and comb considered sufficient for furnishing for the dressing table by many hostesses, it will be necessary to provide a full manure set, as well as a shoe brush and a button-hook. These incidental utensils need not be of sterling silver or ivory or colored enamels like the toilet set, but they should be placed in an attractive box to match it. A flat box of this kind not only adds to the decorative scheme of the dressing table when not in use, but may be easily slipped into one of the lower drawers when the guest unpacks her own articles of toilet.

A smaller box of the same type to match the toilet set should be filled with hairpins, both wire and bone, and there should, of course, be jars containing rouge and powder. A thoughtful hostess will provide two kinds of powder and rouge—one kind for blondes and one for brunettes—in which case the two extra jars may be placed in the top drawer. Another jar holding a number of individual powder puffs (neatly made with a bit of cotton and ribbon) also comes under the head of essentials.

One woman has solved the problem of providing all these details without overburdening the dressing table by a large, rather flat sterling silver and blue enamel make-up box containing separate compartments suitable for each item. This box is placed in the very center of the table, with the mirror, brush and comb on one side and a small oblong silver cigarette box on the other, which makes a very neat and effective arrangement. Electric fixtures of silvered bronze are attached to the sides of the wide oval mirror, so that there is plenty of space left for the guest's belongings on the table.

A small clock, as efficient as it is decorative, is another important item in the equipment of every guest room. Of course, the guests will have their own watches and traveling clocks, but the average young woman is very careless about winding her watch and frequently makes use of this failing as an alibi for being late at appointments. The hostess who expects her guests to appear on time, therefore, would do well not only to furnish them with a clock, but a sturdy eight-day clock, capable of ticking off the minutes correctly without the slightest help from a visitor.

A writing desk without ink is a commonplace in our best hotels, but not in the guestroom provided by a thoughtful hostess. The charming bronze or silver desk set which she chooses carefully to harmonize with the hangings and other appointments is not ornamental, merely—there are stamps in the stamp box, ink in the inkwell, envelopes and stationery in the writing case, pens and fountain pen in appropriate boxes, a small pair of scales, a magnifying glass and a calendar.

On a small table by the bed or an armchair there may also be placed several articles that will materially contribute to the guest's comfort. Among these are an attractive carafe and tumblers to match (the carafe being filled with fresh drinking water just before the guest arrives, unless ginger ale is indicated), and possibly an ornamental jar of light biscuits; copies of late magazines and perhaps a new mystery story, and, last but not least, a small work basket fully equipped for any kind of first-aid to the costume.

One very popular hostess of our acquaintance whose house is tastefully furnished in Old English oak and pleasantly cheerful—a comfortable place of deep-cushioned sofas and arm-chairs and rows of books and bowls of flowers—even goes so far as to provide a small silver tea service for two, including a hot-water kettle, in her guest rooms when they are occupied by women. This is placed on a table near the bed, so that a guest can with the least possible trouble prepare her own tea if she happens to awaken an hour or so before the nine o'clock breakfast. Originally provided for her English friends, she finds that her American guests are enjoying the early-morning tea habit, too. So many of them spend a month or so in England annually now.

This hostess, who has a distinct talent for entertaining, is always particularly careful to see that the guest bathroom is fully equipped with all those necessary articles most people carry with them, but which are all too often lost or forgotten in the excitement of traveling or packing. In the wall cabinet there is always a tooth brush in its sealed package; attractive glass jars filled with standard and compressed, both salts and a few simple medicinal remedies; fine toilet soap and also soap powder for washing gloves and stockings.

Thus, while the guest rooms and bathrooms in this house are the work of a particularly gifted interior decorator, and their appointments in tortoise shell and silver are quietly luxurious, they are remembered chiefly for the sense of order and comfort they impress upon grateful guests.

AT THE CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND

By Clara McCreery
A boy wrecked her castle of sand, And she did the one thing she knew Made a fist of a fat little hand,
And screamed "I'll tell mother on you!"
Mother came and wiped off the tears;
The culprit acknowledged his guilt.
Ah, maiden of three sunny years Your walls are so quickly rebuilt.
But don't build on sand bye and bye—Your house will fall down if you do
And you can't turn on Life with a cry
"I'll tell mother on you!"

Added enjoyment in taking your own motion pictures is afforded by a simple outfit for editing the films. It permits inserting titles, "trick shots," corrections and other "extras" that feature the usual commercial film. It also simplifies the task of arranging the pictures in their proper order.

Maritime Provinces, Overseas Tour.

IN arranging low fares for prairie residents, we regard this part of our work as a great and important public service... always ready with men, equipment plus the experience which enables us to care for any movement with smoothness and efficiency.

THIS summer—escape for a little while from the dull sameness of succeeding days. Our low fares from May 15 to Sept. 30 (with a final return limit Oct. 31, 1929) make it easy.

OUR trains pass through a territory replete with scenic grandeur; of historical and educational value to the traveller. Nothing superior to our sleeping and dining car service... Radio, an added feature on through trains.

THINK IT OVER

Whatever vacation section you have in mind, our local agent will be pleased to give every assistance. He will be glad to quote lowest fares and make all arrangements for you—or write J. MADILL, District Passenger Agent, Edmonton.

FOR THIS WEEK

(BY BETTY BARCLAY)

RAINY DAY GOODY

Cook salad macaroni in boiling water 15 minutes, drain, rinse, add one minced onion season and pack in ring form around large platter. Heat one can salmon, pour into center of macaroni ring. Place thereon one slice bacon. Add flour to grease in pan make thick gravy with water or milk and pour over top.

HONEY CORN FLAKE MUFFINS

1 1/2 cups corn flakes
1 1/2 cups Graham flour 2 cups white flour
1/2 cup honey
5 teaspoonful baking powder
Mix melted shortening with honey add to one egg beaten lightly then add milk. Stir in the dry ingredients which have been thoroughly mixed. Bake in well-greased muffin tins for thirty minutes (Will make 32 muffins)

ARKANSAS HAM

Ham in thin slices
3 tablepoons vinegar
1 1/2 tablepoons sugar
Paprika
1 1/2 tablepoons mustard.
Cook thin slices of ham in hot frying pan until slightly browned. Remove to hot platter. To the fat in the pan add the vinegar sugar paprika and mustard, well mixed. When mixture is thoroughly heated pour over ham and serve at once. Ham cut about an inch thick is some times preferred to the thin slices.

CALIFORNIA MOCK DUCK

1 1/2 pounds flank steak 1 1/2 cups soft crumbs
1 cup chopped prunes 1 egg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Small pieces of suet

Pound steak. Brown quickly on both sides in a hot frying pan. Mix other ingredients and place in center of steak. Roll and tie. Lay pieces of suet over the top, place in a roasting pan, cover with hot water. Bake for one hour. Thicken liquid for gravy.

SAUERKRAUT AND CARROT SALAD

2 cups sauerkraut
8 medium-sized carrots
1/2 cup unbroken English walnut halves 1 cup cream dressing
Lettuce

After washing and scraping carrots run through the coarse knife of food chopper. Combine with sauerkraut. Add cream dressing. Decorate with the walnut halves.

SUNSHINE IN PILLS

Is the time coming when we shall be able to feed sunshine to our horses and cattle, sheep swine and poultry as well as to our children in the form of pills or tablets during the long winter months?

To a limited extent we are already supplying sunshine internally when we dose the unwilling kiddies with a spoonful of cod liver oil and most farmers today are aware that cod liver oil has its place in the diet of livestock and poultry, especially at those times and during those seasons when sunshine is at a premium and when feeds lacking in some of the essential vitamins are scarce.

Now comes a press announcement of the discovery of a drug which is many thousand times as potent as cod liver oil. This powerful substance is known as ergosterol after it has been exposed to ultra violet light. It is an extract of a common fungus named ergot which is now believed to be a constituent of the human body and of every animal and vegetable cell.

The lovely fungus is of no value in itself. It is only when it has been energized by exposure to ultra violet rays that it becomes effective, as the application of the invisible rays results in the creation of vitamin "D", giving the drug a remarkable property to prevent and to cure rickets. The process according to Dr Alfred Hess of Bellevue, New York, can also be applied to oils, milk, cereals and other foods, making the eating of them equivalent to taking violet rays internally.

Such a discovery may well turn out to be a real boon to farmers in a country like Saskatchewan where human beings as well as livestock are needs surly deprived, under natural conditions during a substantial part of the year of some of the sunshine which is enjoyed in greater abundance farther south.

It is interesting to note, too, that once again science is putting to good use something which has been regarded by the agriculturist as something of a pest, for ergot, as is perhaps generally known in this country, is a fungus disease to which some of the cereal crops, and especially rye, is addicted.

PLANT A GARDEN

There are many reasons why there should be a good garden in connection with every home. We have yet to hear of a single reason why there should not be one.

The home garden is a money-maker and a money-saver.

Home-grown vegetables are of better quality than most store-bought vegetables. Vegetables, if not home grown, are not available in many districts.

Fresh vegetables are essential to the maintenance of health.

By proper canning and storing meth ods the vegetable season can easily be extended over the whole year. A good garden stimulates interest in the home and home surroundings.

OTTAWA.—Everyone in Canada is worth $2,700.00. That, at any rate, is what government figures show. The aggregate national wealth for 1928, amounted to $26,691,428,000.00 and works out at the former amount per person. Agriculture is the largest single item, and the western provinces come first in the highest per capita wealth of any part of the Dominion.

BORN—To Mr and Mrs Gardner Boyd an April 28th, at the Wainwright municipal hospital, a boy.

Quite a number of members of the C.O.R. order in town journeyed to Irma on Sunday to attend divine service with the lodge there.

The thunder showers of Sunday last although unpleasant in places were surely welcome, and our annual "million-dollar rain" is about due now!

No less than seven candidates were present at St. Thomas' church on Sunday evening when the Bishop of Edmonton conducted a confirmation service there. He performed the same office at Irma in the morning.

Mr W. Grose arrived last week from Castor, and is now installed as tailor and cutter at the W. S. Clark store.

When you give your land a rest you get a big crop afterwards. A change is as good as a rest. Change the color of your home, either inside or out; or re-model your home—and you will enjoy the change. A full line of paints and all building supplies at the Atlas yard. J. Welch manager.

We learn that entries are now coming in at a great rate for the school musical festival, and this affair promises to be the big success it should prove. The trophies and medals are all to the good, too! Teachers not having forwarded their entries, to Miss Beattie Welch, the festival secretary, are urged to do so at once.

The special feature film at the theatre for May 9, 10, 11 is to be the famous English Gaumont's war picture "Roses of Picardy." This has received such wonderful comment that no doubt it will see a house-full each evening.

The Revs N. W. Whitmore and J. D. Woollett, of Edgerton attended a one-day meeting of the Wainwright presbytery at the United church at Viking on Tuesday this week.

If your car burns, you lose it; if you run into another car it may cost you a couple of hundred or so for repair bills; but if you (or anyone else) driving your car injures a person, it might cost you thousands of dollars and leave you a poor man in your old age. We will take care of all lawsuits up to $10,000 for from $12 to $15 per year! Every new car sold adds to your risk. See Joe Welch about this form of insurance.

Here's a tip for the "young bloods!" The Fashion-Craft specialist is to be at Savers' store on Tuesday next, May 7th, according to an Advt. on page four of this issue.

Secretary Stuart of the Agricultural society now has the annual fair prize list, which have just been completed at The Star office. Get a copy of this, and prepare to do your share to fill the classes NOW. The fair is to be held on August 6th and 7th.

Bring in that suit to get fixed up and get acquainted with Mr. Grose, our new tailor—W. S. Clark, everything in men's wear; phone 50.

This week sees Mr W. Hetherington driving his new Wallis tractor and plows to the betterment of his farm holdings.

Last week Mr Millar arrived from Saskatoon, and is now installed as the new office man at the Associated Refiners plant. He intends to bring his wife here shortly.

Mr Alfred Clark, of Edmonton was visiting friends in town last week.

SPRING TIME IS SHOE TIME

Comfortable shoes for the health and happiness of growing children are always carried in stock. We study the little feet to the point of selecting for their wear shoes of the softest and most serviceable leather, with foot comfort as their leading feature. All sizes, all shapes, all styles, all colors.

2nd Ave. Wainwright

Messrs Forster & Co have taken out a permit for a big addition to their showroom on Main street. The new portion will be 40 feet by 24 feet, and will match the already existing premises.

A nice crowd turned out on Friday last to hear the choir of the United church put on their "Irish Night" concert at Edgerton. We learn that this is being given at Irma on Friday next.

The C.W.L. of St. Luke's church will serve meals in the C.N.R. club-rooms at 35¢ each, both dinner and supper, on May 23rd for the musical festival.

A test of the crude taken from the No. 1 well of the Sasko-Wainwright, which was made at the university of Alberta shows this product to be much higher test than any oil previously obtained in this field. It gives a percentage of 84 naptha.

At a farewell party held by the girls of the C.G.I.T. last week Miss Florence Tury was the recipient of a parting gift from her former colleagues in that organization. A nice silver ring was the memento.

By way of truly beautifying his new town premises, Mr Geo. Morton is planting some dandy carragana which he brought in from his farm last week.

The parents and scholars of the United church B.S. are having a picture show on Monday evening next, when all are welcome. A silver collection will be taken.

The annual fire warnings are now posted by the provincial chief fire inspector, and it will be well for all to take note of these regulations. The penalties are somewhat drastic!

Mike and Pat went into business together. Mike had the money and Pat had the experience. At the end of a year they dissolved. Then Pat had the money and Mike the experience. Experience is costly that is why it is safer to deal with a reliable firm that know their business. Bring your lumber and paint problems to the Atlas Lumber Co. They will be handled to your profit and satisfaction. Joe Welch, Mgr.
